

Export Citations from a Database to an EndNote Library

Much help can be found at http://endnote.com/endnote_export.asp with respect to specific databases.

IEEE Xplore -- Export from IEEE Xplore

- Search the IEEE Xplore database as you normally would.
- Check the box next to any article(s) in the results set.
- Select the " Download Citations " option located above in search results column
- Select Citation or Citation/Abstract and "EndNote, ProCite, RefMan" from the menus
- Select "Download Citation" (make sure that your EndNote Library is open).

MathSciNet – Export from MathSciNet and Import into EndNote Library

- Export from MathSciNet
 - Check the box next to any article(s) in the search results
 - Select Citations (EndNote) from the Batch Download drop-down menu (above search results)
 - Select "Retrieved Marked"
 - Save the file
 - If using Firefox or Internet Explorer copy the citation(s) and paste it into a blank Notepad file, saved as a Text (.txt) file
 - Alternative method for Internet Explorer - use the browser menu - File >> Save As... >> name it and save as a Text (.txt) file.
- Import into EndNote Library
- Open your library
- Select Import from the File drop-down menu
- Select the saved file and import.
- Import into EndNote Web
 - select EndNote Import from Filter drop-down menu
 - *Abstract is NOT included

Science Direct - direct export to an EndNote Library.

1. Search the Science Direct database as you normally would.
2. Select the items you wish to export to EndNote.
3. Select the Export Citations option from the bar above.
4. Select your content format and export format associated with EndNote.
5. Click Export and choose the appropriate EndNote library.

Scifinder Scholar - export to an EndNote Library

1. Search CAS SciFinder Scholar database
2. Select citations to import into EndNote Web
3. Click Save As
4. Select Save as type as tagged format (*.txt) in pop-up box
5. Type in name of file

6. Click Save
7. Click Close

Import Instructions

1. Log into EndNote Web at <https://myendnoteweb.com>
2. Click the Collect tab
3. Click on Import References
4. Click Browse and find the file saved
5. Select Filter – choose the SciFinder(CAS) filter
6. Click Import
7. Click My Reference tab
8. You can now format your citations

For more see CAS SciFinder Scholar Export/Import Instructions at:

<http://libguides.unco.edu/content.php?pid=2097&sid=11451>

Scopus - Direct export to an EndNote Library.

1. Search the Scopus database as you normally would.
2. Select the items you wish to export to EndNote. (If you have a Scopus user account, you can also add items to your My List for later downloading by selecting the items and clicking "Add to list."
3. After selecting the items, click the Output button)
4. In the Output menu, choose the Export option.
5. For the Export format, choose RIS format (Reference Manager, ProCite, EndNote);
6. Choose desired Output (e.g., Complete format).
7. Click Export and choose the appropriate EndNote library.

Library Catalogs -- Export from the NJIT Library Catalog

Download and save connection files from EndNote website for NJIT Library catalog.

<http://endnote.com/support/enconnections.asp>

You can do the same for other libraries.

References

1. EndNote: www.endnote.com
2. Dakota State University: <http://www.departments.dsu.edu/library/endnoteweb.htm>
3. University of Northern Colorado:
<http://libguides.unco.edu/content.php?pid=2097&sid=11451>